Introduction

Widespread corruption in developing countries is extended to every sector from government to judiciary, health services, police and education.<sup>9,10,11</sup> The problems are become more conventional and despite ongoing calls for reform and attempts to improve, there is little or no evidence of progress in all major areas and departments.<sup>7,8</sup> Thus, in continuation of the cases/ information filed already in the offices of the Governor (Pb)/ Chancellor University of Sargodha given; Higher Education Commission (HEC), H-9, Islamabad; National Accountability Bureau NAB (L), NAB Complex, Multan Road, Lahore; Vice Chancellor, University of Sargodha; and the Research Articles highlighting the corruption of the Dean Pharmacy, university of Sargodha, author of this editorial article like to share another piece of beautiful corruption; mocking the system, institutions, administration and quality assurance practices. The tenure of Dean Pharmacy, University of Sargodha has been expired/ terminated on June 15, 2022 as per Notification No. SU/Acad/666 dated June 14, 2019. But, unluckily, the corrupt dean is still illegally practicing the power and misusing the resources including the office, Imtiaz Ali driver, car number SG 38 etc. He has a long terrible history of corrupting and dishonesties hurting the government resources since last more than a decade. Therefore, an urgent legal action is demanded to assure the rule of law in country.

Overview of corruption

Corruption remains a considerable hindrance for advancement in Pakistan. The corruption appear in many forms and shapes including prevalence of bribery, misuse of power by law enforcement agencies, procurement and the provision of public services.<sup>1,2,3</sup> The judicial system is not seemed to be an independent but considerably shielding the corrupt political practices from prosecution. Many efforts over the past years have deployed to develop institutional systematic mechanisms to deal with these fundamental issues. A National Anti-Corruption Strategy was developed in 2002, offers a comprehensive plan for tackling corruption. National Accountability Bureau (NAB) is endowed with comprehensive powers to investigate and prosecute cases. However, a lack of political will, public ignorance and influence of core establishment posed considerable hurdle to stop corruption. The perceived co-option of the judiciary and the arbitrariness of many anti-corruption proceedings also induce obstacles to achieve the defined anticorruption goals and mitigate all kinds of irregularities all over the world.<sup>4,5,6</sup>

Conclusion

The long terrible history of corrupting and dishonesties hurting the government resources since last more than  $\leq 50$  years in Pakistan. However, the urgent legal action in best official manner may potentially help to control the control in developing countries of the world including Pakistan.
